

Models WL and WO Replacement Parts

The pump division of Weatherford exclusively manufactures positive-displacement progressing cavity pumps (PCP). To fully support aftermarket needs and satisfy industry demands, Weatherford offers replacement parts designed for direct interchangeability with Moyno L-Frame and 2000-series pumps, as well as Tarby Century™ III and V-series pumps.

Weatherford's aftermarket replacement parts offer outstanding performance and quality at very competitive pricing. Extensive research and testing have ensured interchangeability of the parts, which meet or exceed the performance and longevity standards of the original equipment.

To ensure accountability and operational durability, Weatherford develops and produces elastomers at our facilities, managing all stages of the development and manufacturing process to ensure the highest quality.
