

Richard Belz, Weatherford, and Mike Almond and Joe Sparkman, Unit Drilling Company, explain how a five-cylinder mud pumping technology is lowering operating expenses for rigs drilling long horizontal wells in unconventional plays.

Read full article on click read full article below doc will open